

FRED MESECK

fred@fredmeseck.com

215-343-2465

BIOGRAPHY

Fred Meseck is an experienced voiceover talent for commercials and for narration of documentaries, corporate presentations, and web- and computer-based training. Fred has a broadcast-quality studio but can also work in his clients' facilities. He excels in technical (engineering, computers, telecom, scientific, etc.) as well as commercial and corporate narration. Fred's technical background (as Senior Software Engineer for a global leader in development of mobile, broadband and enterprise software and services) allows him to provide the voiceover expertise required to engage an audience and enhance technical presentations. Fred is a member of World Voices Organization (WoVO) and is an associate member and supplier to The eLearning Guild.

Fred founded his company, Fred Meseck Voiceovers, in 2004 and since then has aligned himself with six agents who represent him for commercial work. He is his own agent for corporate and e-learning voiceover contracts.

Highlights of Fred's voiceover career

- Commercial
 - National spot for CatGenie, on Animal Planet and HGTV
 - Web video for Tena Men products
- E-Learning
 - 12-module *Fundamentals of Engineering Refresher Course
 - 7-module tutorial on service and troubleshooting of General Electric's Computer-Controlled Braking II (CCB II) System for locomotives.
- Corporate
 - Narration of Symantec's Advanced Threat Protection video
 - Explanation of the various Lodging Programs available to American Express Cardmembers.
- Medical
 - Narration of 6 modules on the Doctor of Nursing Practice degree
 - A long series of physician/nurse instructional videos on topics such as fiberoptic endoscopic intubation, transvenous cardiac pacing, elbow dislocation reduction, intramuscular injections, and extracorporeal membrane oxygenation.
- Documentaries
 - Newscaster voiceover for the documentary Capturing Chaos on Current TV.

Fred's initial training in Voiceover Techniques was with Charlie Roney at Mike Lemon Casting in Philadelphia. He also worked with Alan Sklar at Edge Studio in New York City where he participated in both Intensive and Advanced Audiobook Workshops. Most recently he has continued his training at The Great Voice Company in the New York City area, working with Susan Berkley at multiple three day Voiceover Boot Camps as well as workshops on Advanced Audition Techniques. He also mentored under Susan for a year-long Ultimate Voiceover Success program. Fred holds a BS in Computer Science from the New Jersey Institute of Technology and an MS in Computer Science from Villanova University.